A screenshot of the University of Gent research portal. The header includes the university logo and navigation tabs: Home, Publications, People, Organizations, Projects. A search bar is on the right. Below the header, there's a section for "show: 10 | sort: publication status (published first)" with buttons for "News feed", "Embed this list", "Save this search", "Mark all", and "Export". A red circle highlights these buttons. To the right of the list is a sidebar with various filters: Filter by type, Filter by publication status, Filter by year, Filter by subject, Filter by classification, Filter by language, Filter by faculty, Filter by department, Filter by university college, and Filter by research center. The main list shows three publications with their titles, authors, and years. The first publication is "A shape recovery polymer coating for the corrosion protection of metallic surfaces" by Alexander Lutz et al. (2015). The second is "Simulation of granular soil behaviour using the bullet physics library" by Ehsan Izadi and Adam Bezuijen (2015). The third is "Preventing customers from running away! Exploring generalized additive models for customer churn prediction" by Kristof Coussement et al. (2015). The last item is "Vermischte Nachrichten" by Richard Langston et al.

Project HERMIONE: Hotspot Ecosystem Research and Man's Impact on European seas

project duration 01/04/09 – 31/03/12

abstract Through an integrated and multidisciplinary approach insight is gained in the distribution, biodiversity, ecosystem functioning and connectivity of European Margin Ecosystems such as slopes and deep-basins, canyons, seamount, cold water corals, and chemosynthetic based ecosystems. Also the impact of anthropogenic activities in these deep-sea ecosystems is investigated.
